31st May 1932.

Personal.

Dear Sir Arthur Currie,

It is part of the policy of this Company to recruit into its service well educated young men, especially from Canada.

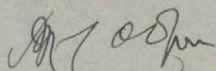

I have been discussing the problem with my colleague, Mr. E.R. Peacock, and he has suggested that I should write personally to you, telling you of our proposals, in the hope that it may interest you and that we may hear of suitable young men whom you may be interested to place.

In other organizations with which I have been associated we have had a large measure of success by taking college boys. The qualifications we have looked for have been a not too high academic standard, a turn for outside games, and above all definite indications of potential leadership. You know better than we do the types of men who ultimately make good and rise to big administrative posts.

For the most part these men would be required for work in Canada, and therefore their selection would be in the hands of the Canadian Committee of this Company in Winnipeg and in particular in the hands of Mr. P.A. Chester, our General Manager there. In the first place, however, Mr. Peacock and I deemed it advisable that I should address myself personally to you.

I am leaving England shortly, and expect to be in Canada in early September, when I hope I may have the pleasure of calling on you.

Yours truly,

Governor.

Dear Mr. Cooper,

Let me acknowledge your interesting letter of May the thirty-first. I think the University can be of some use to you in helping to procure the services of suitable young men. I shall give some thought to this matter and communicate with you again. I shall be in Montreal in September and hope to have the pleasure of meeting you then. Please remember me kindly to Mr. Peacock.

Sir Arthur Currie,
Principal of McGill University,
Montreal.

Dear Sir:-

It is my intention to establish residence in Montreal, and I wish to inquire as to the possibility of a position on the Faculty of your Institution.

My qualifications briefly, are as follows:

I am 37 years of age and a graduate of the University of Berlin, Germany, having attained the highest educational degree (Studienrat) with "summa cum laude". This is a fair equivalent to a Doctor's degree.

During the past 15 years I have been teaching the following subjects in the Junior Colleges of the Berlin School Systems:

Geology, Physiography, Regional Geography,
Meteorology, Climatology, Latin and Latin
Philology, Greek and Greek Philology, German,
Ancient History and French.

I shall appreciate the honour of an interview and wish to thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Very truly yours,

W. Huebner

Dear Mr. Huebner,

Let me acknowledge your letter of the 22nd August and thank you for bringing your qualifications to my attention. I am sorry that it will not be possible for me to see you for some time, as I shall be away next week and all September. Our staff is complete for the coming season.

As you state that your experience has been in the Junior Colleges of the Berlin School System, it might be well for you to interview the Secretary of the Protestant School Board of Montreal at 670 Belmont Street with a view to obtaining a position in one of our high schools.

Yours faithfully,

Principal.

In the official table of precedence for Canada he ranks after the Governor-General and the Lieutenant-Governors, the Prime Minister and the Bishops, and so on and so on. So that after your guest he is next.)

Only very inferior judges with us, such as judges of police courts are "Judge S." But when you are speaking to him, not writing to him or putting his name down, it is all right to say "Judge Surveyer". Not so with the Chief Justice. It is better always to refer to him in conversation as "the Chief Justice", if you can. When speaking to him it is really correct to say "Judge Greenshields" but it should be avoided otherwise.

Dear Principal Currie; As an old
Melillor man I am thankful that you take such a genuine interest in our Canadian Soldiers and their dependants.

I was proud to find the name of my noble son Lieut. H. S. Hughes in the honor list on that tablet in front of the Arts Building. Five members of my family are graduates of Melill. I could entertain your Student Body of today with a description of the Bldg. and Professors in 1874.

I saw every Bldg. and where Sir William Dawson lived and was entertained as and saw as many a useful lesson apart from the class rooms. The four Divinity Schools were full then and we formed a large part of the Arts Body. I can name and describe every member of the faculty those days.
We who studied under Sir William Dawson
and Rev. J. Clark Murray could meet with them.
I was a student in the old Wesleyan but we were all brothers. Four of the new with horns I sat in class became Bishops in the Anglican Church.
I am still a minister in the United Church of Canada and often go back and look over the old places.

Yours sincerely
L. J. Hughes

P.S. Your views will influence the more liberal legislation now proposed. I often wish Mr. Mill had a War Fund of 2 per cent. I know the dependants of their sons would be helped in time of need. I applied to the Board of Pensions at Ottawa but they have done nothing for us. Reasons given my son as transferred to the Imperial Service and died in action a Lieut in the Northumberland Fusiliers. You remember they transferred a number of our University men. Mrs. Hughes has a small pension from the British Board and I have my pension from the Church I served nearly fifty years. Mrs. Hughes and I were both in the hands of an Egyptian Surgeon and spent many weeks in the hospital till they took all we had. Still the Board would not consider our case. I am eighty one years of age I cannot go to work again. It is hard on an independent Canadian. The new legislation may help my case. I shall live in hope.

Reverend S. J. Hughes,
1329 Rosemoynne,
Glendale, California.

Dear Reverend Hughes,

Thank you very much for writing to me. The interests of returned soldiers and the dependents of those who fell are matters very dear to my heart and I hope that through amended legislation at the coming session of parliament these interests may be improved.

I am also interested in your comments about those who served McGill in the days when you were a student. It was never my good fortune to meet Sir William Dawson nor Mr. Clarke Murray, but what wonderful men they must have been! I do not think I ever speak with an old student of McGill who does not mention either one of these men and most often both of them. Truly, it is men who make a University, and the selection of men I regard as my chief responsibility here.

I hope that you and Mrs. Hughes enjoy good health in the coming years.

Ever yours faithfully,

Principal.

My dear Pres. Currie:

I have been asked to give a talk to the Sociology Class of the First Baptist Church Sunday School in Lansing. My subject is "The trend of our Young People in the Colleges and Universities."

I am at present a second year student in The Harvard Law School. My lack of experience makes it necessary for me to get my information from those who are in position to know. You will do me a great favor by replying to the following questions:

1 Will the present graduating classes furnish the leaders in our political, social, religious and business life ten years hence? If not, why not?

2 Do you consider the moral stamina and character of the present student as sound and as high as they were ten years ago? Twenty years ago?

3 Do you think that the present student is as serious minded and thoughtful, looking forward to a life of the greatest usefulness as were the students of ten years ago? Twenty years ago?

4 Do you think that as great a percentage of the present student generation have a clear well-defined life objective as there was ten years ago? Twenty years ago?

5 As a college President, do you think that the plan of elimination of students who lack the above attributes both before and after entrance into college is as rigid at the present as it should be?

6 What would you suggest to be done to stimulate the youth to develop along the above mentioned desired lines?

Any suggestions that you may make that will help me develop the above subject will be greatly appreciated

Yours sincerely,

Dear Sir:-

In the absence of the Principal I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of July 13th addressed to him.

As this is vacation time and the members of the staff are scattered widely I am afraid there is no one here who could be of assistance to you in getting up your subject. Sir Arthur is at present in Honolulu attending the meeting of the Institute of Pacific Relations and does not expect to be in Montreal again until about September 1st.

However, I am sending you, under separate cover, the Principal's Report for 1924-25. Beginning on page 33 you will find some ideas regarding education and the student. I trust this will be useful to you.

Dear Mr. Morgan,

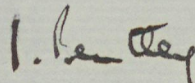

As it happens I have kept the papers of the Joint Committee on the University Training for Public Administration. I thought Mr. Nicholson had better see them first so he has looked through them and would be glad if you would keep them so that, if necessary, he could ask to see them again - this in view of the fact that the question is a live one at the moment.

Yes, the snowdrops are out and just a few crocuses and aconites, but they must have been later this year as I think they have not been out much more than a fortnight. But the weather hasn't been too good, apart from a few days last weekend which were really beautiful.

I am glad Mrs. Morgan is coming again this year. Are you not coming too? I haven't seen Elizabeth yet but I expect she is fairly busy. I do hope a decent job comes her way soon.

Senate dinner was held last night and Lord Middleton and Lord Hotham were here. I expect you have heard that the latter and Lord Brownlow are the new Vice-Presidents. Lord Sempill is lecturing here next Thursday, and Lord Lloyd on the 11th March. You will be pleased to hear that Mr. Nicholson has been appointed a member of the External Council of the University of London.

I hope that you are managing to escape the scourge which seems to be sweeping England at the present time. There is quite a lot of influenza here and in the States but so far we have been completely fortunate.

I suppose that spring is beginning to show signs of arrival. I can imagine that for the last three weeks you have been looking out of your window at the snowdrops and crocuses. I remember that they used to begin to show their heads within a day or two of the 17th of January. I always used to note it down in my diary.

I expect you have seen Elizabeth by now and have heard something of our doings here, which go round in more or less set fashion. Mrs. Morgan is looking forward to being in Hull this summer and of course you will see her then.

I suppose that you did not preserve the mimeographed material on which I worked when I was a member of the Committee which drafted that report on teaching and public administration? If you should by chance have it on file I would rather like to have it.

Very fortunately the annual meeting of the American Association of Medical Colleges is to be held this year in Montreal. I look forward to being there together with Dr. William D. Cutter, Dean of this medical school.

I am particularly interested in the problems of graduate medicine, as I am making a survey for the Directors of this medical school of the present equipment, personnel and methods, with a view to outlining recommendations for procedure. I hope to see what McGill University is doing, particularly in the field of instruction for practitioners who desire training in some special branch, or to be tuned up in their general knowledge.

Dear Sir,

I am writing to ask if you would put me in communication with a nurse who was visiting the children in Verdun, by the name of Miss King. The reason I am asking is that I have to stand trial on the 15th for assaulting my landlady's daughter a child of four years of age. As Miss King used to visit the people I thought it possible that she would be able to know if there was anything wrong with the child, if so I would be very glad if she would be at the trial. I shall be greatly obliged if you would try & locate her. Richard Squires Esq. Verdun Avenue has kindly consented to act on my behalf.

Thanking you in anticipation for a reply.

My dear Sir Lomer:-

I had hoped to see you at the Bank this morning because I wanted to speak to you with reference to Dr. Alex. Hutchison, who for 37 years has been in the Medical Services of the Grand Trunk Railway and who for the last 31 years has been head of that Department.

Dr. Hutchison is Professor of Surgery of McGill University and head of the Surgical Department of the Montreal General Hospital. I know him very well and hold him in high regard. There is no doubt about his efficiency, integrity and good character, while his long service as head of the Medical Department of the railway would seem to indicate that he is a capable official.

It has been intimated to me that in the re-organization of the staff of the National Railways Dr. Hutchison may be removed from his present position and I have also heard that the man who is spoken of as his successor is a doctor in Toronto and a brother of one of the high officials of the road. Those who most warmly support Government ownership of railways are loudest in their protestations that political influence does not appear in the management of the railways.

I hope there will be no political interference with Dr. Hutchison's position and I would ask

Sir Lomer Gouin - 2 -

you, Sir Lomer, to speak to the Honourable the

Dear Sir Arthur:-

I have forwarded to you the Thirty-eighth Annual Report of the Grand Trunk Insurance & Provident Society for your information.

You will note that we have almost 17,000 fully insured members; all of whom have been physically examined, and the results of the examination passed upon in my office before they have been accepted as members.

You may also be interested in the total expenditure, which is over $7,000,000. and that we have a surplus of $267,000., and that this amount is slowly and steadily increasing, and we are now getting interest from the Company upon it.

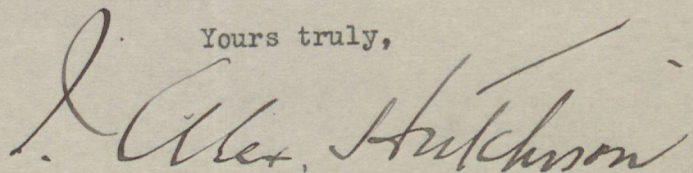

Another interesting point is that for many, many years we have had one or two suicides each year.

Perhaps the point that you will be most interested in is that all men who went overseas had their insurance kept good without being called upon to pay any fees whatever, and that we paid all the death claims, whether from wounds or sickness without question, and that this amounted to the somewhat large total of $70,750.00. There were 231 members killed in action.

We also took every returned man back into regular membership irrespective of his physical condition, and considerable sums have been paid, which strictly speaking were not called for, and which all regular Insurance Companies refused to accept responsibility for under similar conditions.
