

Athenaeum

C05417/1.6

Godlee

(From Sir Rickman Godlee - Reminiscence)

my
"The way he would slap you on the back and pick your tail pockets when you were reading the telegrams at the Athenaeum was delightful. Everyone I think looked upon him as a personal friend almost as a special friend of his own.

I had many of his pleasant and jocose post cards and letters but doubt if I have kept any. Are you going to write his life? I suppose some one will."