(Letter to Dr. Cushing)
(typewritten)

7, NORHAM GARDENS,
OXFORD.

March 23rd. 1906.

Dear Cushing:-

Things move on here quietly. We are still houseless but hopeful. I am feeling all right again. I was rather knocked out by the racket in America. I am evidently reaching a state of pre-senile enfeeblement.

Have you a copy of Gui Patin's letters? I am reading them at night now with the greatest interest. He was an unique old rascal but devoted to books.

You will be glad to hear that I was elected at the Athenaeum Club the other day. The committee is allowed to elect nine every year among men who have a certain measure of respectability. Otherwise, you have to wait your turn on a waiting list of four or five hundred. I have been elected a member of the Bibliographical Society, which is most interesting. I attended the first meeting last Monday and heard a very good paper on the old Chapter House at Canterbury.

I hope Lady Mary Wortley is thriving.

Give my love to Kate.

Sincerely yours,

WM OSLER
