

To Dr. Jacobs from Dr. Flick.

Philadelphia,
April 4, 1904.

My dear Dr. Jacobs:

Your letter of 2nd. inst to hand. The week from April 18 to 23rd would suit me very well to meet in New York and I shall be glad to meet there any evening that suits the others if given short notice. Saturday would suit me better than any other day in the week but Friday would suit me all right if the meeting were held after four o'clock. I think it might be well to hold the meeting in New York at the time you name and to hold a second meeting in Washington in May as it is quite likely one meeting will not be sufficient.

I shall be glad to go over the plans for organization with Dr. Ravenel as you suggest and communicate the result of our conference to you at the earliest moment possible.

Yours truly,

Lawrence F. Flick.

P.S. In going over my mail I find a letter from Dr. Porter addressed to you which had come in an envelope with a letter to me and which I had meant to give you at the meeting. Pardon my overlooking it.
