To Dr. Flick from Dr. E. S. Bullock.

Silver City, N. M.,
April 5, 1904.

Dear Dr. Flick:

I am very appreciative of your kindness in sending me the account of the recent gathering at the College of Physicians and Surgeons. I would have liked to have been there more than you can understand by any expressions in a letter. I shall make every effort to get to Atlantic City, even though at present I can see no way of making it stick. (sic) Our little institution has had a fearful struggle for existence, and the good sisters have no way of sending me, much as they would like to, and I cannot afford it myself. Further, it is very difficult to get anyone to take my work whom I can trust. There is no one in the Southwest who can do my laryngeal work. However, you know that heart and mind I will be at that meeting at Atlantic City and I sincerely trust that you will see that my name is included in the list of members of the new Society.

Very sincerely,

E. S. Bullock.
