CLASSIFIED BIBLIOGRAPHY OF SIR WILLIAM OSLER'S

CANADIAN PERIOD.

(1868 - 1885)

Bibliographical Note - The great biographical interest which attaches to the story of Sir William Osler's early Canadian publications is enhanced by their grouping under various subjects in the chronological order in which his interests developed, and this attempt is therefore made here. First and most illuminating of all are his boyhood and early student researches in natural history (1867-70) which are from the beginning highly scientific, and yet alive with a really passionate intensity of interest in the study of living things. Next came his observations in normal and pathological histology as seen in the reports attached to his "Cases under the care of Dr. D.C. MacCallum" (1873) and his graduation thesis; then his studies in physiology under Prof. Burden Sanderson (1873) and in pathology with Virchow and Rokitansky (1873-74); his early collegiate work at McGill (1875-77); then the flood of pathological studies and reports bearing upon his museum collection; and lastly his clinical and editorial work at Montreal. His purely literary activity was a product of his later life, but there are abundant traces here in the biographical notes of his Foreign Correspondence. (1873-1874; 1881; and 1884)

This Canadian bibliography is still to be regarded as incomplete and will yield further fruit to a more extended research, but as the early sources are largely Canadian it contains many additional items to Miss Blogg's admirable bibliography of Osler's entire works, which in the new edition forms a practically complete compendium of his later, American and English periods. # In "Sir William Osler, Bart" Johns Hopkins Press, 1920, pages 122-167, to be published shortly revised as a separate volume. The wealth of unsigned articles which are his by internal evidence are not listed here nor are the many facetiae published under the nom-de-plume of Egerton Y. Davis, which was so well known to his friends. Articles in the pathological series referring to mesuym specimens still in existence are indicated by an asterisk.

Writings by Sir William Osler prior to 1885.

1. Studies in Biology.

1867-68 Observations made in this field at this date are quoted in his "Canadian Fresh Water Polyzoa" (see below)

① 1870 Canadian Diatomaceas. By William Osler (of the Toronto School of Medicine) Canadian Naturalist, Montreal, June 1870 n.s. v.142-151. Collected reprints Vol. 1. (Gives a list of 110 species found in the various localities surrounding his boyhood home, as Dundas, London, Hamilton, Weston, Lake Simcoe, etc.)

Just before that

Trichinosis. - a large series of experiments done by himself in the year 1870 are reported in his article on this subject published in 1876 (see below)

② 1877 On Canadian Fresh-Water Polyzoa. Read before the Natural History Society of Montreal, Jan. 29, 1877. Pub. Canadian Nat. 1887, n.s.x, 399-406. Coll. Reprints, vol. 2, no. 53. (Tells of researches made in the summer of 1867 with the Rev. W. A. Johnson of Weston, and in the autumn of 1868 under Prof. Hincks, as a student in his botany class.) pp. 400, 406. March 8 1883

③ 1881 Supplementary note on Canadian Fresh-Water Polyzoa. Proc. Nat. Hist. Soc. Jan. 2, 1881. Pub. Canad. Nat. 1881, n.s. IX, 473. Really, suitable to this: were not in the Proceedings of the Nat Hist Soc of June 21 1881

④ 1882 Biology Notes:

Antonie for example in

1883 The Brain of the Seal. Proc. Nat. Hist. Sec. Oct. 29, 1883. Mentioned in Canad. Rec. of Nat. Hist. Jan. 1884. 1. 64. (Illustrated by many prepared specimens.)

Student work. Clinical and Pathological Reports.

- 1871 Carcinoma of the Breast. Removal by Excision. (Gives detailed gross and microscopic description of the tumor). Canad. Med. Journal, 1872, VII 107. (From Montreal General Hospital Medical and Surgical Cases under the care of Dr. D. C. MacCallum, reported by Mr. W. Osler.)
- Fissure of anus. Ibid. p. 113
- Angina Ludovici. Ibid. p. 114
- Suppurative Nephritis. Ibid. p. 115
- Pleuro-pneumonia with Delirium Tremens. (The autopsy was evidently his own, for it is described at length in the clear and systematic manner of his later Pathological reports.) Ibid. p. 119-122
- 1872 A case of Paralysis with Aphasia. Clinical report by Dr. John Reddy. Autopsy by Mr. William Osler with presentation of of "a very valuable wet specimen" of the cerebral arteries and fine drawing published in the text. Canad. Med. Journal, 1872, VIII, 407-408
- (Unpublished) Graduation Thesis on Pathological Anatomy. by William Osler, March 18, 1872. Awarded a special prize by the Faculty, because it was "greatly distinguished for originality and research, and was accompanied by 33 micropic and other preparations of morbid structures, kindly presented by the author to the museum of the Faculty." Canad. Med. Journal, 1872, VIII. 473.

Studies in Physiology.

- 1873 On the action of certain reagents, Atropia, Physostygmine and Curare on the the colourless Blood-corpuscles. Quart. Journ. Miscr. Soc. Lond. 1873 n.s.XIII, 307-309. Also Monthly Micro. Journ. 1873, Aug. Coll. Reprints Vol. 1. Summary in rep. on Pharmacology, Journ. Anat. & Phys. 1874, viii, 232. Also in Brit. Med. Journ. 1873, ii, 636.
- Osler and Schafer, R.A. Ueber Einige im Blute vorhandene Bakterienbildende Massen. Centralbl. f. Med. Wiss. 1873, xi. 577-578. Summary in Rep. on Physiology Journ. Anat. & Phys., 1874, xiii, 198.
- 1874 On a account of Certain Organisms in the Liquor Sanguinie. Proc. Roy. Soc. Lond. 1874, xxii, 391-398. Coll. reprints Vol. 1 No. 3. (An account of work done in the Physiological Laboratory, University College, London, under Prof. J.B. Sanderson and Mr. Edgar Schafer).
- 1882 Ueber den dritten Formbestandteil des Blutes. Centralbl. f.d. med. Wissensch. Berlin, 1882, xx, 529-531. Coll. Reprints Vol. 2, No. 47.
- Notes on cells containing red blood corpuscles. Lancet, London, 1882, i 181.
- 1883 The third corpuscle of the blood. Phil. Med. News, 1883, xliii. 701-702 Coll. Reprints Vol. 2. No. 47.

Translations and Retrospect.

1876 Anomalies in the development of Vaccine Pustules. Canad. Med. & Surg. Journ. March, 1876, 1V, 449-451. Signed W.O.

Dr. von Diseauer (of Valparaiso) - Passage of an unusually large gall-stone. (Virchow's Archiv. Bd. lxvi, Hft.2.) The case is dated December 1873 and evidently came under W. O's attention during his first post-graduate term abroad. Two notes are appended signed Prof. Virchow and W.O. Translation in Ibid. p. 500-503.

Dr. Ortille. Treatment of Convulsions in children by anaesthetics. (Bull. de Therap. quoted in Schmidt's Jahrbucher No. 1 1876) Ibid. p. 556-588. May 1876

1874 Uterine Thermometry. Translated from Virchow's Archiv. Bd. lxii, Hft. 1. Canad. Med. & Surg. Journ. Dec. 1874, Vol. 1875, 111, 294-296.

1876 Retrospect. Notice of the recent Researches on the Pathology of Small-pox. By Wm. Osler, M.D. L.R.C.P. London, Professor of Institutes of Medicine, McGill University. Canad. Med. & Surg. Journ. 1876, IV, 341-343.

~~1876. Anomalies in the development of Vaccine Pustules (Translator) Canad. Med. & Surg. Journ. March 1876~~
Signed W.O.

- 1879 Cohnheim's Theory of Tumors. Translated and condensed from Vol. 1 of his Vorlesungen Ueber allgemeine Pathologie (Lectures upon General Pathology). By Dr. Osler. Read before the Medico-Chirurgical Society of Montreal as an appendix to a report of two cases of rare Kidney Tumors - Striped-Muscle Sarcoma, and Spindle-celled Adeno-Sarcoma. Canad. Med. & Surg. Journ. March 1879, Vol. 1880, VII, 337-347, 398-408.

VI.

Academic Work.

- 1875 Valedictory address to the Graduates in Medicine and Surgery, McGill University. Delivered on behalf of the Medical Faculty at the Annual Convocation held in the William Molson Hall of the University on Wednesday 31st. March 1875. By William Osler, M.D. L.R.C.P. Lecturer on Institutes of Medicine. Canad. Med. & Surg. Journ. 1875, Vol. III, p. 433-442. Coll. Reprints Vol. 1 No.4. (Recommends the Religio Medici of Sir Thomas Browne to the perusal of the class in this, his first address.)

Introductory remarks to, and synopsis of, practical course on Institutes of Medicine. Canad. Med. & Surg. Journ. Montreal. 1875, IV, 202. States that sufficient microscopes are supplied for each member of the class and gives synopsis of the course, covering microscopic technique, normal and pathological histology, clinical and medico-legal, microscopy and parasites.

- 1877 Introductory lecture on the forty-fifth opening of the medical faculty, McGill University, Oct. 1st, 1877. Canad. Med. & Surg. Journ. 1878, VI, 193-210. Also Dawson Bros. 19 p. 8°, Coll. Reprints, Vol. 1 No. 14.

- 1880 Brief description of the Physiological Laboratory, McGill College (with a diagram of plan.) Canad. Med. & Surg. Journ. Oct. 1880, Vol. 1881 IX, 198-201.

- 1881 Notes on the second demonstration in the morbid anatomy course at McGill College, by Wm. Osler, M.D. M.R.C.P. London, (Reported by Mr. R.J.B. Howard B.A.) Canad. Journ. Med. Sc. 1881, VI, 350-353.

- 1882 Normal Histology, for laboratory and class use. Montreal, Dawson Bros. 1882.

? Notes on Physiology. Dawson Bros. Copy not extant.

- 1885 The growth of a profession. Canad. Med. & Surg. Journ. Montreal 1886, xiv, 129-155. Also, Phil. Med. News, 1885, 337-345. Also Canada Lancet, Toronto, 1885-1886, xviii, 65-69. Coll. Reprints, Vol. II, No. 68.
