

Copy

CUS417/5.32

From the Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford.

30, January, 1915

Dear Jackson,

That was nice of you to send me the sketch of our good friend Wier-Mitchell. You touch upon one of the most interesting features of his life, the gradual wearing down of the feeling of dislike and jealousy that he had inspired as a younger man.

I hope all goes well with you. We are fighting the battle for democracy here. It is a devil of a job, and an appalling sacrifice of fine young lives, but we have got to go through with it.

Sincerely yours,

Wm. Osler.

Sketch enclosed