

Dictated by H.C.

C05417/37.20

W.O. was one of the Radcliffe Trustees and therefore in control of the Observatory, which is one of the important meteorological stations in England - Dr. Rambout now being in charge.

The Radcliffe Trustees also had some supervision of the Infirmary, so that he was sometimes embarrassed to know as chief Consulting Physician at the Hospital and at the same time as Radcliffe Trustee, what he ought to recommend.