

Issue with going to Repin's house? CUS417/37.81

"When I joined the faculty," he said Jacques Patin "his finances were in a

"After two or three years" Nov. and Jan. 1849 condition of delicate simplicity, so simple indeed that a few years later they were admitted to my care. The current expenses were met by the matriculation and research fees and the government grant, and each Professor collected the fees and paid the expenses in his department."