DR. THOMAS HUBBARD

TOLEDO, OHIO

Dr. Harvey Cushing
Boston

Dear Doctor:

One who knows can appreciate that amusing "color" incident; the laughing eyes in contrast with the weeping willow mustache; and, as you probably understood, he pronounced the Cohen names like "olon".

I happened to sit next to Dr. Hier Mitchell - up in the back row of the amphitheater when critical Philadelphia sat in to get the first impression. He, the young man from up North, had to size up against the most seductive nator of the faculty (nary faculty), Prof. Pepper, and even without the gift of oratory he put it over. When he drawled out an "Ah-h-h-h" he was stalling for the right word and always found it. Thank you for the note

Yours truly Thomas Hubbard

P.F. By the way, I think that your father lectured me at Western Reserve and that he and my revered Uncle, Dr. John C. Hubbard of Ashtabula were professional colleagues
