

Congratulations to the Pick of the Bunch of 1925!

SINCLAIR LEWIS

DR. HARVEY CUSHING

AMY LOWELL

EDWARD CHANNING

GEORGE KELLY

The 1925 Pulitzer Literary Prize winners, as announced on Tuesday, are Sinclair Lewis, for his novel, "Arrowsmith" (Mr. Lewis has since refused the prize); Dr. Harvey Cushing, for his "Life of Sir William Osler"; Amy Lowell, for her book of verse, "What's O'Clock"; Edward Channing, for the sixth volume of his "History of the United States", and George Kelly, for his play, "Craig's Wife."

CUS417/57.33