

1028/68/23 CUS47/68.2336

though the offer was

It was unqualifiedly the right decision. One that might have tempted a young man of 23 who knew his mind less well. This exchange of letters has been a chance finding and so far as the letter is aware of it, never referred to the matter again. It is a somewhat curious coincidence that this his first offer for a position was one in Botany, another about the time he accepted one in Botany was as president of the Botanical Society of the British Isles. He was to have wrote to G. Cludge Stone and ask for copy of his address the reference time from. Who date was C's address given.

J

Given as address on William Withering at the annual meeting ... 1920. # Prob.

Mr G. Cludge Stone the prominent botanist presided in his short and in an arbitrary notice recalled the fact that Sir William had secured for the Botanical ^{17th century} the Botanical Conference of Richardson of Bierley. He also said of his projected address, "Boy a happy Chance < Cf. Slap, and why file Slap under appropriate.