Johnson letter

Jan 9th 1873

The ^{ten} ~~next few~~ months were given over to ~~my~~ miscellaneous subjects and to this was my good advice and finally influenced by it the

"washing the hospital" in ^{the} ~~its~~ old significance of the term. He followed Sir William Jenner in internal medicine at the ... Hospital, Purges at the ...

Purges, and ~~Boston~~ ^{Boston} Bastian on nervous diseases and Wilson Fox and took course notes of his clinic. He made a desperate struggle to master German ^{spoken} ~~but forgoes~~ to be his little gift for spoken speech in foreign tongues possible due to his unimpaired ear. ^{early in the year he} ~~He~~ ^{took} a course of lectures on Embryology given by E. Klein at the Brown Institution and must have been interested for "James Broun and M.C.P." appears only once on the pages of his note book.

He appears also to have studied some experiment in the blood of guinea pigs which however do not seem to have come to much. ^{medical} ~~cont. letters home~~

He even attended surgical operations for his roommate who regularly ~~wrote~~ ^{sent} letters home for publication in the journals ~~refers~~ ^{acknowledges} his indebtedness to

Dr. Ester for notes of surgical cases at the University Hospital where Mr. Erickson was then in attendance and ~~when the young sister was~~

~~seen to appear (?)~~

~~turn all the time to turn down to answer on this letter from~~
