Dear Ogden

I got back last Sunday - You will be surprised to see Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford, but I do not leave until next June. The temptation was too strong - a quiet peaceful life, after thirty years of incessant work, and amid such peaceful surroundings. To leave all my friends on this side will be a great wrench. The position is very ornamental - at present, but I can make it useful I hope. Sanderson, my old teacher & friend has been too feeble to do very much.

Love to your lassie, we shall hope to see you some time during the winter. Send me the exact date. We go to Muriel's wedding next week.

Yours ever -

W.O.
