My very dear Willie

One day after another I have waited hoping to hear from you, or of you by Georgie for I know full well you are too busy to find much time to write, this epidemic is everywhere and keeps the poor M. D's very busy or what is worse lays some of them low, our opposite friend was in bed for 10 days or more every house has its tale to tell. Nellie, Rachel, Amy Edward, Alec, have all had it more or less severe in this house Charlie and Herbert rather bad attacks or very bad I should say. I've had a cold and Father has had two or three days of bad breathing and more cough than usual today he is much better and down stairs. Carlton St. has its victims, so has Avenue St. but all seem improving now. When you can get a spare moment write a card and let us know how you and Georgie are. No Cornish news this week so we hope the Aunts are better.

Norman is waiting to take our letters, his eyes are better and we hope that in two or three days all your children will be able to return home the holidays have been lengthened out rather unpleasantly for them by this attack. The idea of J. going home to nurse the Aunts has not rooted and just as well it should wither for it would never answer.

With love
Yours affectly.
Ellen Osler.
