

CUS417/86.6

A week later he writes Mr. Gilman who, needing a much deserved rest after fifteen years at his post, had taken his family to the Mediterranean for the winter months and then to England where honorary degrees were bestowed upon him at Oxford and Cambridge.