My dear Chattie

If I leave my note till the morning, you are not likely to get one for there always many little things come in the way in the early part of the day. Amy seems to have enjoyed her visit at the Wragges, and like a good girl has not forgotten to run in now and then to see us. Georgie came down from Collingwood to see Ethel and with one and another there has been no dull loneliness to complain of--Mrs. Wyld when you see her will tell you of her unexpected appearance in our midst, she looks well and full of interest in the N W--A note from Ethel today they had a very enjoyable day at the point--Annie lunched here today, has gone back. Edmd. and Aunt Louie with her. Amy and Amy 2 with Bertie W. had an aftn. tea with Aunt Nellie and now we two are quite alone. Alec having gone to Deer Park Fenn returned on Thursday from Judge Boyds and today has gone up to Collingwood, Amy excepted the whole family are there now.

We are looking for Trevor presently--he will go up tomorrow to May's soon Norman will be at home but I suppose we shall not see him down for a few days after he comes back, Amy thinks he is going for a week to P. Dover. Grace writes that they will be here about the 18th. I dare say you may have heard from her, she says she is quite well, I hope Nona has quite got over her encounter with Tory poor little maid the fright was enough without the bite--an upset to you I'm sure as well as to her. I am looking forward to Monday with much pleasure J I suppose will come down at the same time they are expecting her at York Mills. Mamma is at home, Fannie and Mr. B. have gone up to the Point.

No one mentioned your having been poorly till you mentioned by a card that you were better. What an influx of visitors for you to have last week, I felt sorry for you. It is so dusk I can write no more, the evenings are lengthening--How went off the Garden Party at the Parsonage?

Your loving Mother
E. Osler

10th.

So sorry that you are not coming for another week but you know best how to arrange your time with Georgie. We shall look for Jennette on Tuesday, my love to her. Uncles goods and chattels have arrived but not yet delivered, the China Vases all broken so badly packed, by an expert too. Trevor looks well he is off to the Island to see Harold, they go up at 5 p. m. Nellie is going down to the Boat with Amy, love to all
