

Dec. 4
CUS417/98.106

PETER BENT BRIGHAM HOSPITAL

JOSEPH B. HOWLAND, M. D.
SUPERINTENDENT

721 HUNTINGTON AVENUE

HARVEY CUSHING M. D.
SURGEON-IN-CHIEF

HENRY A. CHRISTIAN, M. D.
PHYSICIAN-IN-CHIEF

BOSTON 17, MASS.

(In re. Dec. ? 1902)

S. BURT WOLBACH, M. D.
PATHOLOGIST

August 28, 1922.

Dr. C. N. B. Camac,
76 East Fifty-sixth Street,
New York City.

Dear Charles:

Can you possibly tell me when and where W.O. gave his address (Medical News, Jan. 10, 1903) "On the Need of a Radical Reform in Our Method of Teaching Senior Students"? The only hint I have is a foot-note which refers to a lecture by John W. Francis, Bellevue Hospital, 1858. It is quite possible, therefore, that it may have been given at the Bellevue Hospital, perhaps before the Hospital Society. Is there any possible way that this can be traced? If you do not know, can you perhaps put me on the track of someone at Bellevue who might know?

Please scribble an answer below, to save us both trouble.

Always yours,

Harvey Cushing

STATED MEETING, N.Y. ACADEMY OF MEDICINE, DECEMBER 4th 1902

C.N.B. Camac, August 30th 1922.

~~Physiologie du Gout - ou Méditations de Gastronomie transcendante
par Brillat-Savarin
Illustrée par Bertall~~

~~Précédée d'une notice biographique par alph. Karr~~

~~Dédié aux
Gastronomes
Parisiens~~

~~Devisés à part du texte gravés sur acier par Ch. Geoffroy,
Gravures sur bois, intercalées dans le texte, par Midderrigh~~

~~Gabriel de Gonet, Éditeur, rue des Beaux-Arts, 6.~~