Dear Brown:

Many thanks for the note about the poor fellow. I am glad he went off peacefully. Let me know about the undertaker's bill. I do not know exactly how much money there is coming from that life insurance policy, but you and Trembley should send in your bills. Miss Humpton sent him one of the assignments for an additional signature the other day, but it has not come back. You might look for it among his papers.

Sincerely yours,

Wm Osler.
