Dear Musser:-

Very foolishly, I think, they took a group of three younger fellows to fill Johnston's place instead of importing a first class young fellow who would have made a name for himself and helped the reputation of the school.

Have you Morgan's Discourse on the Founding of Medical Schools? I received yesterday from Edinburgh from a friend an autograph copy, which he had sent to Prof. Hope. This sets free my copy for either you or Dock. If you have got one I shall send it on to Dock.

I was at poor Packard's funeral this morning, but had to hurry away to catch the 10.20 train. I did not get over until late last night so that I could not see you. We shall be on hand on Thursday.

Sincerely yours,

WM OSLER
