Dear Campbell:

(in reply)

We arrived safely on Saturday night and found a very comfortable house with good servants. It was awfully dull the first two days and quiet, so that Tommy had a constant desire to scream. We are now getting into pretty good shape, but it will take months to settle down. You did find out the figures of the abdominal tumors, did you not? I would like copies of them all. I am preparing a lecture on the subject, and have an article for Keen's New System of Surgery. I wish you would ask "Buch" to look over the figures in their department and let me have anything that is specially striking or useful. Ask Bloodgood if you could not look over his list. There were two cases of huge sarcoma of the abdomen from retained orchids.

Marjory came on Wednesday and we are having a bully time together. Tommy has the sweetest looking tutor about his own age and size.

Love to the boys.

Sincerely yours,

W. Osler.
