

13, Norham Gardens,

Oxford.

March 26th, 1907.

Dear White:-

It is splendid to hear that you are so well. I am sure if you would only come down to a proper godly breakfast and stop eating sausages and buckwheat cakes three or four times a week, you would be a new man. The country house will be a great pleasure to you. It looks a nice old fashioned place. We are having a glorious spring. I never saw such weather - nearly a month now of uninterrupted sunshine. I sail April 20th.

You will have noticed about my mother's death which, of course, was not unexpected, though the end came somewhat suddenly.

Do be careful of yourself. Love to Mrs. White.

Sincerely yours,

W^m Osler