

I am going across to Liverpool on the 15th or 22nd of August. If you are in England at that time I should be glad to see you for an hour or two to discuss matters. If, however, you are coming to this side perhaps the discussion can be postponed until then. Would you let me know what your movements are likely to be during the latter part of August and during September? I believe you told me that you might be on this side during the latter month.

With all best wishes, I am

Yours sincerely,

A. B. Macallum.

P.S. I wish you success in the Edinburgh Rectorial.

Dear Macallum:

CUS 417/106.26
13, Norham Gardens,
July 22nd, 1908.

Gotch's assistant here, Ramsden, a Fellow of Pembroke, might be considered. He is an excellent physiological chemist and I daresay you know his work. You should be able to get a man without much difficulty. Let me know from the steamer when you arrive. I shall probably be still in this country. We are going to Scotland for August, but hope to be back early in September.

The Edinburgh Lord Rectorship is a doubtful matter. Political feeling runs high, and heretofore the independent candidates have not had much chance.

Sincerely yours,

W^m Osler
