- ① Vesal's Fabulae sex Bonnae was the 1542 Epitome etc and later vols of each page, at great length ending Vale Batavii Cale Cypri An Salutaris MDXXXVIII
- ② The 1543 edition Corpus vespali but it has the Epitome 1542 with the margins folded.
- ③ The Examen. A vernia Jo. Thomae's publication deals with the statements made in the Artemia of Jo. Gallopinus.

- 1. Library of Univ., very old building - Ducal palace, good catalogue. No MS. of Mundinus' anatomy. Two fragments of XV sec. MSS. of his - not important ~~etc...~~
- 2. Montagnanus edition 1498, with his two plates and the urine chart.
- 3. Vesal - no letters, no MS. No autograph copies of work. The 1543 of the de humani corp.-fab. is well worn. At lower right hand margin is Fabritius sibi & suis. Probably the copy belonged to F... 2nd ed: vesal. Good copies of 1542 epitome, the examen 1564, the china root, Boerhaaves op. om. of Vesal, 1604 Venice ed.
- 4. Harvey de motu cordis orig. ed. not there... Rotterdam ed.
- 2/5/7 Univ. Court. Not so fine as the ^{architecture} archigineri? of Bologna. Same style. The stemmas are chiefly in stone and not coloured. The aula is splendid, the walls brilliant with coloured stemmas. A good many old portraits. Could not find Harvey's stemma - went twice round (bitterly cold and had to give it up).
- 6. Lecture room given by Fabricius in 1595 - the one in which Harvey heard his (F.) dem. of the valves of the veins - is very remarkable - 6 tiers of places, very steep - standing room only - curious open woodwork of the places. The well is very narrow, no entrance, except a communication with the cellar by which the body could be lifted up on the table. The lecture room very small, accom. 75-100.
- 3/7. No old book-shop.
