

16.)

13, N.G. Oxford.
May 7th 191/

CUS417/109.73

That is all right. I understood exactly your feeling that you wished to have a quiet visit with your wife. I have now sent out the invitations for Saturday the 14th to about 30 of the men in the country interested in diseases of the heart, It is not a very good day to catch the London men as it is the Whitsuntide holiday. If the King is not buried there might be some difficulty in having the dinner at the Club, but I will let you know.

Prof. Wenkebach

Mrs. Wenkebach will hear from Mrs. Osler about your visit to us.

The reprints of my Angina lectures have not come yet, you will have one at once.

P-S. I have just seen Keith. I am sure you will have a very happy visit. You will find Oxford at its best.