Sept. 1 1921.

Dear Dr. Cushing:-

I have just come across the following, in a volume of Kussmaul's autobiography:

13, Norham Gardens,
Oxford.

Oct. 15th, 10.

Dear Bowditch,

There was a little delay in sending you the Kussmaul's autobiography, which I ordered more than a month ago, but now they have sent it here, and I have forwarded it this morning; I know you will be enchanted with it. How popular it has become you may see from the fact that this is the 8th edition; I do not know any other autobiography to be put on the same shelf with it.

We have had a glorious autumn so far. Term is just beginning, and the Rhodes scholars from different parts of the United States and Canada are turning up with letters of introduction.

Lauder Brunton, whom I saw the day before yesterday, asked after you. He has just returned from Nauheim; I did not ask him whether he had gone for his heart or not.

With much love to the family,

Affectionately yours,

(signed) W<sup>m</sup> Osler

I have now been through all my father's papers and have handled most of the books, so I think this is the last Osler item, and appropriately so, for it was written only a few months before my father died.

Yours sincerely,

Harold Bowditch
