

(Dr. R. Bennett Bean)

13, Norham Gardens, Oxford.

Professor Bean,
Anatomical Department,
Tulane University,
New Orleans, La., U.S.A.

Jan. 3rd, 1911.

Dear Bean:

I had a pleasant hour with your book the other night. What an interesting study! I wish I knew something about it. It brings to my mind those fascinating books of Nott and Gliddon and of Quichard, with whom I used to while away many a happy evening as a medical student. Home Philippinensis is not so bad looking, and is a type of face one comes upon now and again in every country.

I hope you are fairly happy in New Orleans. Give my kindest regards to your wife.

Sincerely yours,

W^m Osler.