May 2nd, 1911.

Dear Ogden,

I am very glad to hear that the family is coming over, only I do wish you could have come with them. You must before long get over here and have a peaceful time with me; there is so much that would interest you.

Ask your wife to let us know when she comes to Oxford, we shall of course want to see them all. I will send word about a doctor. I am afraid they will find a great jam in London, which is already swarming with visitors.

I wish Cushing could get away, he needs a change sadly.

What a terrible loss the death of Ned Cushing is!

I had a wonderful trip in Egypt -- a marvellous country!

Sincerely yours,
