

COPY.

To J. McCune

CUS417/III.88

17
Rps.

June 30th, 1911.

Dear Mac:-

The Btcy came as a great surprise. Asquith wrote a private note saying it was to be conferred. We have been very content without these embroideries. I hope we may be equally so in the future. Raven seems a bit overwhelmed, but it may be a good thing for him in the long run as he is evidently not going to do much with 'book learning'.

It will be great fun to have you and Amy over here. She and A.G. can sport about while we delve.

I am swamped with letters and telegrams. There were ^{of the} ^{letters} 150 in the first two days and ? but the transAtlantic letters begin to come in it seems hopeless.

My plantigrade Ursula leaves next month --such luck! family reasons. An awful d - f. Thank Amy for her messages. Grace will write soon. Love to all the boys.

Yours ever,

W.O.