

Oxford

25th April, 1912.

Dear J. William,

Revere had pneumonia, but the attack, though sharp, was short, with a crisis on the 6th day, and he is now very fat and fit. We returned from Italy yesterday and had a delightful visit.

I will ask about the other photograph, of which Miss Garrett had several done, and sent us one; but I believe there was some difficulty about getting additional copies. I will let you know.

Should you come to England on your return in September, let us know.
Love to Mrs. White.

How sad to have poor John Musser leave us so early -
Have you a good photo of your Sargent picture?
