Sir Thomas Browne MSS.

Dear Mr. Johnson,

Your terms are satisfactory, but you understand that there are two separate editions of 1642, and the collation would have to include each one of those. You will see that Mr. Williams thought one of the MSS. was in Sir Thomas Browne's handwriting - you can see which in the second edition of his Bibliography. There is no special hurry. Do not begin it for a little while, until you hear from me. I would like to consult with one of the experts at the Bodleian. It might be a saving of time if I sent you over my manuscript, which I also wish done.

Verystruly yours,
