

From the Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford.

13, Norham Gardens.

11th Feb. 1913.

Dear Macphail,

Of course, I remember Scott well. Deafness still persists in spite of the fabulous aurists! I know nothing of Heath, but Rolleston of 55 Upper Brook St., would be an excellent man for anyone to consult. (General purposes).

I am so glad the Journal prospers. Francis writes very hopefully. It is a long time since we saw you over here!

Sincerely yours,

W<sup>m</sup> Osler.