

(From secretary's notebook)

CUS417/117.48
(To Maj. Gen. Smith)

Feb. 19, 1914.

Dear General Smith.

What a curious coincidence! Only the day before yesterday I was reading one of your papers at the RSM & made a memorandum to write asking you for reprints. I am, of course, delighted to have them. Please send me the others as they appear. I am very much interested in the history of medicine & for 10 years when in Montreal lectured on comparative pathology at the Veterinary College. Your work will be most useful. There is nothing of the same kind in the literature. Do come & see me if you are ever in Oxford. I was interested to see your use of the famous method of Zadig. I very often begin my 3rd year clinical observation class by making one of the men read the story. It is a delicious piece of literature.

Maj. Gen. Smith

12 Clarendon R^o

Blackheath SE

Feb. 19. 1914