(To E. S. Martin, Esq.)

Nov. 11, 1914.

Dear Martin:

Those editorials of yours from 'Life' are splendid and are circulating actively among members of the University. You get the whole problem in a nutshell. The country is in very good spirits in spite of the sad loss of the young fellows, but evidently the outlook is satisfactory, though it is going to be a long, hard, uphill tussle.

Love to the family and to Mabel when you see her.

Wm. Osler.
