

(To. Mr. Harold Parsons)

Jan. 27, 1915.

Dear Harold P.

It has been on my mind for a long while to send congratulations. I have forgotten whether I have done so or not in these busy days. Do let us know when the happy event is to take place. We were quite excited at the news. I was afraid you were going to be a miserable old bachelor. I am glad you have followed my example about a widow as they are much more satisfactory. It saves a lot of training. With love & best wishes to you both.
