Dear Garrison:

I am very interested in those two papers of yours in "The Reference Handbook". They are a useful addition to my library. I did not know that in this new edition they were adding biographical notices. It will add very much to the value.

By the way, the Radcliffe Library is now in a separate building at the Museum; it is no longer at the Camera. For working purposes it is one of the most convenient of all the libraries I have ever seen.

I am picking up a few treasures now and again. The Serenus ed. pr. came in to-day from Sotheby's. Did you ever read Marc-Antoine Petit's "La Medecine du Coeur"?

Sincerely yours,

Wm. Osler.
