

19th September, 1916.

13, Norham Gardens,

Oxford.

Dear Parfitt

I was so pleased to have your last letter with an account of your progress. I know what an up-hill battle it has been for you. What a delight to get your own place. I am sending a cheque to the Angel of the House to spend for any little extras in the way of bed-room accessories, trays and cups and saucers - she will know.

We are all well. Reveregoes over in a few weeks to take his chance with the rest. He likes the artillery.

Love to the lassie and to you both from us both.

Yours ever

Wm. Osler.