From Dr. Malloch's Journal.
Saturday, Dec. 16, 1916.

Arrived Oxford 11.30. Mrs. Chapin met me on platform. Sir Wm. in bed with brohchitis - Major Gibson told me later a "touch at one base". Such a delight to be here. Sir Wm. coughing a good deal and looked a bit thinner; Heard how rude Sir Sam Hughes and W. Bruce were to W.O. - he did not tell me, of course. Miss Willcock, the "ancient vestal", here to do Incunabula and catalogue books, as Mr. Hill soon to go to Army. She is so enthusiastic. A fine book W.O. has got of the "R" printer.
