

13, Norham Gardens, Oxford
Feb. 17th, 1917.

Dear Coy,

I doubt if it would be wise to urge Miss Oppenheimer and Miss Richter to go abroad before finishing their medical studies, as it would not be easy to get them suitable jobs. We can utilise all the young graduates who care to come over, but I expect by the time this reaches you, they will be making arrangements to join the army of the million men Uncle Sam will call up.

Sincerely yours,

George J. Coy, Esq.,
Medical Department,
Johns Hopkins University,
Baltimore, Md., U. S. A.