(Dr. George H. Simmons)

From the Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford.

Sept. 19, 1918.

Dear Simmons:

This (enclosed) was in the West Minster Gazette this evening, and expresses well what the patients think of the American boys in the English Hospitals. They have done splendidly. We have a dozen fine fellows in the Orthopedic Dept. here. The enthusiasm for the U. S. is intense - and how well deserved!

Yours sincerely,
