

From Dr. Malloch's Journal.
Saturday, Nov. 16, 1918.

General Thayer and Col. Longcope came for dinner, and all the time after dinner the former talked of conditions in Russia. He stood up and we all sat round listening. In the afternoon Dr. Ferries of Cardiff came here and he spent a long time in the library in the afternoon telling us his theories of immunity, showing us many charts etc. auto-precipitants etc. etc. W.O. teased him about these latter. I think he wants a job, and when he left W.O. said "They think I run the Univ. of Wales."
