Oxford.

Friday.

Dear J.Y.W.M.

I was desolated to have to leave No. 1 this a.m. without seeing you but since writing I had to make an engagement for 12.

To my surprise Col. Walker is in England. I had written to him in France. He will come back for a meeting in Jan. It is most important to get him to give a plain talk on the truth. He can do it. No one in the U.S. Army has done better work and he is a man of large experience and sound sense. The President could invite him thro' McCair the Surg. Gen. in France.

Yours,

W.O.
