From Dr. Malloch's Journal.

Wednesday, Feb. 5, 1919.

W.O. gave me F.J. Shepherd's experiences with Resurrectionists to read - it is very good indeed. W.O. says that S. used to have an Irish servant who made use of the most blasphemous language. W.O. told me of a case here last week and a pm. he did on it. Also told me of a boy of 13 with double cervical rib. His Classical Assoc. address is on Friday, May 17. He asked me to be back in time for it. Miss Smart is now his secretary. There is to be a huge Red Cross international enterprise after the war. W.O. asked to be on a Committee but will not. W.O. has splendid baked tablet of the Temple of Assur, writing dating from Sargon, King of Assyria, 1721-1706 B.C. a list of remedies for eyes - got it from Paris. We tied up W.O.'s artery and aneurism pamphlets which go to J.H.H. W.O. says that Sir Edmund's left hand does not know what his right hand giveth and that he does not know anyone more generous.
