Dear Withington,

I hope you have heard from the Press about a small honourarium for all the good work you have done £100 is precious little for it but the expenses connected with the revision are very heavy—already several thousands.

I hope John Lane's edition of Lipinska will come off. See that the translation is good. Would you take my copy, or have you one. I am off to Jersey for six weeks but Mr. Hill of the Bodleian will be here every evening about 6.

Love to daughter.

Yours sincerely,

Wm. Osler.
