Dear Sir William,

It is very good of you to forward me the memorandum re Bibliotheca Osleriana. I have seen Birkett regarding it and he asks to think it over for a day or two. Personally I see nothing that strikes me as essential to add, as I take it the power is given to the curators to appoint an English or European agent such as Dr. Windsor was to the Surgeon-General's library, who shall keep his eyes open upon European happenings and opportunities.

The idea of keeping up the high standard of the library by the appointment of these curators from outside, strikes me as admirable.

With every good wish,
Yours sincerely,
