Dear Sir William:

Thank you for the clever lucubrations you have so kindly sent me in celebration of your birthday. It must go deep into yours and Lady Osler's hearts' cores to realize afresh how many love you and admire you as a man and a friend.

I wish you had the sturdy Christian standpoint, of simple faith in Christ the Son of God, and the Lamb of God come to earth to take away our sins by the sacrifice of himself. "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world"! That belief honestly expressed and maintained does produce things in our weak human nature not realizable in any other way. I write frankly, and without any apology, for the subject is too big to admit of apology, and you are always glad to hear a friend speak out what is in his heart.

Burnam and I want a first class man as pathologist in our sanatorium work which is large. It is a responsible position, and carries with it an opportunity for original work, and investigation.

We are ready to pay a good salary, which must in some degree depend upon the man's experience and training, and recognized ability. Can you help us secure one?

I am up in camp resting as usual; I needed it more this year as I was quite tired.

I wish I could see you in person.

Very faithfully
as ever

Howard Kelly

I wrote 3 articles on you last Spring, all different! One for Hosp. Bul, one for Animals of
Med. Hist., and one for South West Journal.
