Adam Smith in his Wealth of Nations a hundred and fifty years ago taught that the world would run itself very nicely on the principle of enlightened selfishness. How are we getting along?

Finale

A ~~la~~ Resurrection of Adam Smith

Adam, Adam, Adam Smith,
Listen what I charge you with!

Didnt you say

In the class one day

That selfishness was bound to hay?

Of all your Doctrine, That was the Pith, Wasnt it; wasnt it? Wasnt it? Smith?

Dont you remember your Book begins
With a Panegyric on making Pins?

Didnt you say That the more we made The bigger would be ~~External Trade~~

We sold the pins and the Foreigners had 'em,
That was the Big Thought, wasnt it, Adam?

And didnt you say, - Dont think it funny
That the greatest thing in the world was ~~money~~
And didnt you say - now please dont shirk,

That the basis of value was human work,

And the worker must be content with ~~his lot~~

Being worth ~~just~~ precisely just what he got

Just, whether you said it or whether not?

And if you said it, you must confess you have brought the world to a terrible mess

For a hundred years since your ^{Giant} was

All selfish as hogs, whether rich as sin
Or as poor as rats, Ah! why begin
To teach us about that fatal Pin!

How can venture to look in the Face

Of an honest fellow like Stuart Chase?

How can you dare to be blocking the way

Of the Enterprise such as the NRA?

Smith, come up from under the sod

Tell me what did you do with God?

You never named him, I understand,

You called him (Book IV) an invisible hand

You gave him the system all geared and speeded
With none of his interference needed

It wasnt worthy a man of your size
