Dear Father

I was very sorry & learn from your last that you had been compelled to the house by the injury
of which we had free wound of a very slight nature from Agnes. I trust that its bad effects are now

quite past, and that I shall find you well. I feel
the less curious,
as the weather is now fine, and I hope to see you soon. I think I shall be able to leave by the Liverpool steamer of June 11

on by the Puttand
steamer of June 12,
either will bring
me equally soon,
if however you are quite well, I may wish to spend a day or two in Washington or elsewhere, before coming on to Peter.
I trust I need pay
no account of you

Do not, for will write a telegraph, and I will hurry very young It is to be hoped however that this will not be necessary,

We are all well
and the weather is now quite warm -

I am getting through my college work as fast as possible to prepare for leaving

Yours truly & affectionately
