

295, University Street,
Montreal.

Tuesday -
June 7/0.

Dearest Edward -

I'm so lonely today, that I can hardly contain myself - perhaps I feel particularly so this afternoon, because every thing seems to have gone the wrong way today - There seems to be no end to the things one has to do in this world - You just think, "oh! I have three more things to do to catch up", but by the time you have finished those three things, 75 more have come, and so you are never finished.^{1. done.}

There is no rest for the weary in this world - Do these Dear?

I want a long long letter from you ever so much, you can write to me any day in the week now - as my school finishes on Friday - I dreamt of about you all last night, such a

3.
nice dream, not a nightmare
at all, as perhaps you might have supposed.

It is still pouring rain here, really the weather is too gloomy for words - I suppose you have the same weather in ~~Gor~~ probably.

It seems ages to wait till the middle of July before going away - I don't understand how men live at all, only having 2 weeks holiday a year - It does seem frightfully hard -

*

There is absolutely nothing going on here now, and it seems so flat after the winter^{ers} rush - and especially flat since you left -

So tell me all about your rascally young self when you write -

The question now comes up before me, "shall I post this, or shall I not" - I shall shall I not? - yes -

I feel a little better now that I have written this mad letter to you - so I think I will have some tea - although I am on a starvation diet at present - with all love to you from Lois.

June 30, 1910

Eva Namie

Goddie

Agnes, S.

Francie

1910

Eva à la monkeys - illustrating Darwin's
Theory -

1910

Agnes Slavert

me Frances Eva

1910.

Goddie
Anderson

MON JUN 20 1910
7-PM

E. S. Winslow Esq.
C/o Can Rand Co Ltd.
Traders Bank Bldg
Toronto.
Ont

Photos