My dearest Tiny

In about an hour and a half we expect to reach Nelson. The road is very rough and the train a couple of hours late.

Everything is going well and I am now eagerly looking forward to seeing you soon. Last evening I took a ramble up on the big hills among the scattered pine trees and thought of you as I picked some bright colored flowers a tiny scarlet one and another colored like a forget me not.

Returning I saw a young woman by the road side with shears cutting an armful
of wild roses. I hope her bear enjoyed them as I would have if you had picked them
for me.

I am seeing the country at its best this time and certainly it is beautiful and splendidly big and I am enjoying it.

With my best love & every good wish to you darling.

Yours affectly
Edward.
